THE FINANCE BILL

As the public desire to know the exact provisions of the measure relating to the currency which has now become a law, we give below the full text of the bill as reported by the conference committee, passed by both branches of Congress and signed by the President

An act to fix the amount of United States notes, provide for the redistribution of the national bank currency, and for other purposes.

SEC. 1. The act entitled "An act to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June 3, 1864, shall be hereafter known as the National Bank Act.

SEC. 2. That section 31 of the National Bank act be so amended that the several associations therein provided for shall not hereafter be required to keep on hand any amount of money whatever, by reason of the amount of their respective circulations; but the moneys required by said section to be kept at all times on hand shall be determined by the amount of deposits, in all respects as provided for in the said section.

SEC. 3. That every association organized, or to be organized under the provisions of the said act, and of the several acts amendatory thereof, shall at all times keep and have on deposit in the Treasury of the United States, in lawful money of the United States, a sum equal to five per centum of its circulation, to be held and used for the redemption of such circulation, which sum shall be counted as a part of its lawful reserve, as provided in section 2 of this act, and when the circulating notes of any such associations, assorted or unassorted, shall be presented for redemption in sums of $1,000 or any multiple thereof to the Treasury of the United States, the same shall be redeemed in United States notes. All notes so redeemed shall be charged by the Treasurer of the United States to the respective associations issuing the same, and he shall notify them severally on the next day of each month or thereof, at his discretion, of the amount of such redemptions, and where any such associations for any associated on shall amount to the sum of $500 such association so notified shall forthwith deposit with the treasurer of the United States a sum in United States notes equal to the amount of its circulating notes so redeemed; and all notes of national banks worn, defaced mutilated, or otherwise unfit for circulation shall, when received by any Assistant Treasurer, or at any designated depository of the United States, be forwarded to the Treasurer of the United States for redemption, as provided herein, and when such redemptions have been so reimbursed the circulating notes so redeemed shall be forwarded to the respective associations by which they were issued, but if any such notes are worn, mutilated, defaced, or rendered otherwise unfit for use, they shall be forwarded to the Controller of the Currency and destroyed and replaced as now provided by law. Provided, that each of said associations shall reimburse to the Treasury the charges for transportation and the costs for assorting such notes, and the associations hereafter organized, shall also generally reimburse to the Treasury the cost of giving such plates as shall be ordered by each associat on respectively, and the amount assessed upon each association shall be in proportion to the circulation, redeemed, and be charged to the fund on deposit with the Treasurer; and, provided further, that so much of section 38 of said National Bank act recognizing, or permitting the redemption of its circulating notes elsewhere than at its counter, except as provided for in this section, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. That any association organized under this act, or any of the acts to which this is an amendment, desiring to withdraw its circulating notes, in whole or in part, may upon the deposit of lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States, in sums of not less than $9,000, take up the bonds which said association has on deposit with the Treasurer for the security of such circulating notes, which bond shall be assigned to the banks in the manner specified in the manner with section of the National Bank act, and the outstanding notes of said association to an amount equal to the legal-tender notes deposited, shall be redeemed at the Treasury of the United States and destroyed as now provided by law; provided that the amount of the bonds on deposit for circulation shall not be reduced below $50,000.

SEC. 5. That the Controller of the Currency shall, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, cause the charter numbers of the association to be printed upon all national bank notes which may be hereafter issued by him.

SEC. 6. That the amount of United States notes outstanding, and to be issued as a part of the circulating medium, shall not exceed the sum of $382,000,000, which said sum shall appear in each monthly statement of the public debt, and no part thereof shall be held or used as a reserve.

SEC. 7. That so much of the act entitled an act to provide for the redemption of the three per centum temporary loan certificates and for an increase of national bank notes, as provided, that no circulation shall be withdrawn under the provisions of section 6 of said act, until after the $54,000,000 granted in section 1 of said act shall have been taken up, is hereby repealed and it shall be the duty of the Controller of the Currency, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, to proceed forthwith, and he is hereby authorized and required, from time to time, as application shall be duly made therefor, and until the full amount of the $54,000,000 shall be withdrawn, to make a requisition on each of the national banks described in said section, and in the manner therein provided, organized in States having an excess of circulation, to withdraw and return so much of the circulation as by said act may be apportioned to be withdrawn from them, or in lieu thereof to deposit in the Treasury of the United States lawful money sufficient to redeem such circulation, and upon the return of the circulation required, or the deposit of lawful money as herein provided, a proportionate amount of the bonds held to secure the circulation of such association as shall make such return or deposit, shall be surrendered to it.

SEC. 8. That upon the failure of the National Banks upon which requisitions for circulation shall be made, or any of them, to return the amount required, or to deposit in the Treasury lawful money to redeem the circulation required within thirty days, the Controller of the Currency shall at once sell, as provided in Section 49, of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, bonds held to secure the redemption of the circulation of the association or associations which shall so fail to the amount sufficient to redeem the circulation required of such association or associations, and with the proceeds which shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States so much of the circulation of said association or associations shall be redeemed as will equal the amount required and not returned; and if there be any excess of proceeds over the amount required for such redemption it shall be returned to the association or associations whose bonds shall have been sold; and it shall be the duty of the Treasurer, Assistant Treasurers, designated depositaries and national bank depositaries of the United States, who shall by inquiry be informed by the Controller of the Currency of such associations as shall fail to return circulation as required, to assort and return to the Treasurer for redemption the notes of such associations as shall come to their hands until the amount required shall be redeemed, and in like manner to assort and return to the Treasury for redemption the notes of such national banks as have failed or come into voluntary liquidation for the purpose of winding up their affairs of such as shall hereafter so fail or go in liquidation.

SEC. 9. That from and after the passage of this act it shall be lawful for the Controller of the Currency, and he is hereby ordered, to issue circulating notes without delay as applications therefor are made, not to exceed the sum of $55,000,000, to associations organized, or to be organized, in those States and Territories having less than their proportion of circulation under an apportionment made on the basis of population and of wealth as shown by the returns of the census of 1870, and every association hereafter organized shall be subject to and be governed by the rules, restrictions and limitations, and possess the rights, purposes and "franchises now or hereafter to be prescribed by law as national banking associations, with the same power to amend, alter and repeal provided by the National Bank act, provided that the whole amount of circulation withdrawn and removed from the banks transacting business shall not exceed $35,000,000, and that such circulation shall be withdrawn and redeemed as shall be necessary to supply the circulation previously issued to the banks in those States having less than their apportionment; and provided, further, that not more than $20,000,000 shall be withdrawn and redeemed, as herein contemplated, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1875.

At about seven o'clock she started to return, but nothing was seen of her again till Sunday night, when she got home, giving sufficient evidence that a horrible crime had been committed. No arrests have been made.

A mare belonging to C. H. Nelson, Chinaga, got lost in the woods last week, and after a search of two days she was found mired in a cedar swamp with only her head and part of her neck above water. Her head fortunately laid on some roots or she would have been sunk completely out of sight. With much difficulty the mare was rescued, and is now doing well. A colt was with her at the time

THE GENEVA AWARD

The following is a summary of the bill which has become a law, for the partial distribution of the Geneva Award:

The act provides for the appointment of a Court of five Commissioners, to be appointed by the President, with the advice of the Senate, the sessions of the Court to be held in Washington. The salary of the Commissioners shall be $6,000 each, with a clerk at $3,-000, and a short-hand reporter at $2,500 per annum. The President may designate a commissioner-at-law to represent the interests of the Government in all suits and claims filed for indemnity for losses. The Court shall exist for one year from the time of convening, but, if the business is not completed within that time, the President may by proclamation extend the term not more than six months. It is made the duty of the Court to receive, examine, and decide all claims admissable under this act that may be presented to it, directly resulting from damage caused by the so-called insurgent cruisers, Alabama and Florida and their tenders; and also all claims directly resulting from damage caused by the cruiser Shenandoah after her departure from Melbourne, Feb. 19th, 1865. No claim is to be admissable or allowed for any loss or damage for or in respect to which the party injured, his assignees or legal representatives shall have received compensation or indemnity from any Insurance Company, insurer, or otherwise, but if such compensation or indemnity so received shall not have been equal to the loss or damage he actually suffered, allowance may be made for the difference.

In no case shall any claim be admitted or allowed for or in respect to unearned freight, gross freights, prospective profits, freights pure or advantages, or for wages of officers or seamen for a longer time than one year next after the breaking up of a voyage, nor shall any claim be admissable or allowed by or in behalf of any insurance company or insurer, unless such claimant shall show to the satisfaction of the Court that, during the late rebellion, the sum of its or his losses in respect to war risks exceeded the sum of premiums or other gains upon or in respect of such war risks. In case of any allowance, it shall not be greater than such excess of loss. No claim shall be admissable or allowed arising in favor of any insurance company not lawfully existing at the time of the loss under the laws of some one of the United States, and no claim shall be admissable or allowed arising in favor of any person not entitled at the time of his loss to the protection of the United States in the premises, nor arising in favor of any person who did not at all times, during the rebellion, bear true allegiance to the United States. In estimating compensation to claimants, interest is to be allowed at the rate of four per centum per annum upon the actual amount of loss or damage which shall be ascertained in each case to have been sustained from such date as the Court shall in each case decide that the loss was sustained by the claimant; provided that the amount of such interest shall not be included in or added to the amount for which judgment may be rendered. The Secretary of the Treasury is to pay the judgments, together with interest at the rate of four per centum per annum on the amount of such judgments, from the date certified to the persons respectively in whose favor the same shall have been made, or to their legal representatives, in full satisfaction and discharge of said judgments. If the sum of all the judgments rendered, together with the interest, shall exceed the amount of the Geneva Award, the money is to be proportionately distributed. The Secretary of the Treasury is required to pay judgments of the Court and for this purpose is authorized to sell five per cent bonds, if, after paying judgments and expenses there remains any part of the Geneva Award, the same shall be and remain as a permanent fund, from which Congress may hereafter authorize the payment of other claims thereof.

The Committee of Conference struck out the clause that all the claims provable or to be allowed shall be scaled and adjusted upon the basis of United States gold coin at the time of the oss. The bill otherwise is that which passed the Senate.

A St. Louis reporter, who rode on the train that passed over the Kinmundy bridge at that place a few days ago, seems to think that a ride over the new structure is preferable to being hanged. He says: "We can almost realize the thought of suspension in the atmosphere, without the sense of hazard usually associated with an insubstantial support as the 'unsupported air.'"

Republican Nomination.

FOR GOVERNOR:

Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr.,

OF LEWISTON.

Republican Caucuses.

The Republican Voters of Bangor are requested to meet at the usual places of Ward meetings in the several Wards, on SATURDAY EVENING, June 27th, 1874, at 7½ o'clock, to select three delegates from each Ward to attend the Republican District Convention to be held in this city on the second day of July next.

The delegates so selected are requested to meet at the Common Council Rooms on the same evening, at 8½ o'clock, to select two delegates at large to attend said Convention.

Per order of City Committee.

HERMON BARTLETT, Chairman.

Bangor, June 23d, 1874.

THE ADJOURNMENT.

The first session of the Forty-Third Congress has come to an end, and we are glad of it. The irreconcilable divisions in either branch upon important questions of public policy rendered it measurably certain some time ago that satisfactory results could not be attained at this session and we earnestly advised adjournment, to bring the members in direct contact with the public opinion of their respective localities, and to afford opportunity for popular discussion of the matters in issue. The session just closed has been all the more arduous owing to the contests which have arisen on many leading questions, and we are sure that the members are quite as pleased to take a vacation as the public to get out it.

Without a formal summing up of the proceedings of a long and busy session, we may say that some good things have been accomplished and a great many bad ones avoided. We have not noticed the improvement promised by an increase of the opposition, but on the contrary the minority have busied themselves in obstructing legislation in order to throw the blame of failures upon Congress as a Republican body The dominant party have grappled with a number of formidable evils, such as the Sanborn contracts and the District scandals, and have made clean work with them Among the important measures are a currency law, concerning which opinions are divided; the amendment of the bankrupt law; a provision for Reimbursing the holders of undisputed claims under the Geneva Award, the reform of the money system, and the abolition of the District government.

A large number of dangerous schemes have been thwarted, a great deal of useless or mischievous legislation has been strangled or thrown over by adjournment, and jobbery has found exceedingly slight encouragement. With all its shortcomings it is no small thing for the session to boast a reduction of nearly $40,000,000 in the appropriations, and that no extra burdens of taxation have been imposed upon the people.

The return of the members to mingle with their constituents can hardly fail to exercise a wholesome effect and as we hope that public sentiment throughout the country upon leading questions will become more settled and distinct between this time and next winter, so we hope that the next session of Congress will accomplish more good with less difficulty than has beset the session just brought to a close.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. Although the report of the District investigating committee, while denouncing the extravagance, and illegality of expenditures, etc., failed to designate the personal responsibility, the impressions concerning District officials were so unfavorable that much surprise was caused when the President on Tuesday sent in the name of Governor Shepherd at the head of the Commission for the temporary government of the District. The nomination caused a sensation in the Senate, and an excited debate ensued in Executive session when Shepherd's nomination was rejected by tabling, the vote being reported 33 to 6. The President immediately sent in the name of ex Senator A. G. Cattell of N. J., who was confirmed with H. T. Blow of Mo. and W. B Dennison of Ohio as the other members of the Commission. The President seems to entertain unbounded confidence in Governor Shepherd, but it is evident that the feeling is not shared by Congress.

The Congressional Committee appointed to prepare a form of Government for the District of Columbia, consists of Senator Morrill of Maine and Hamilton of Maryland, and Representatives E. R. Hoar of Massachusetts and Mitchell of Wisconsin. The Boston Advertiser's special says. "The selections of Speaker Blaine of members to assist in preparing laws for the District, are generally approved, and Judge Hoar and Mr. Morrill of Maine are particularly acceptable.

The injunction of secrecy having been removed as to the proposed Reciprocity Treaty with Canada, the features of the document prove to be substantially the same as hitherto reported. The proposition stood very little chance in the Senate and was judiciously postponed until next session, an opportunity for public discussion being afforded in the meantime.

THE BANGOR WHIG declares its intention to conduct the discussion of the Senatorship question in a dignified and decorous way, in a very temperate and, in general, just article. The purpose is a good one, but in carrying it out the WHIG should be careful not to call its neighbor a "champion" when that neighbor explicitly disclaimed being in the champion business.—[Portland Transcript.

We certainly have no desire to impute to our neighbor any championship which it disclaims. The drift of the article in the Press to which we referred, seemed to indicate an espousal of the cause of Collector Washburn but its own disclaimer ought to settle that matter. If our contemporary will be a trifle more explicit in the future statement of its views of candidates, we shall be able to avoid misconception as to its attitude. We infer from the above extract that at present it is in the condition of "no choice." A recent issue of the Press would indicate that our neighbor has "let out" the champion business to correspondents: which is not a bad idea, if the first instalment is a specimen of what the exigencies require.

The Governor on Tuesday nominated W. J. Corthell, Esq., of Calais, Trustee of the State College, vice Hon. T. S. Lang, resigned.

The International Law Congress, to be held at Brussels this summer, should not be confounded with the Conference for the Codification of International Law, which was inaugurated at Brussels last year, and which is to meet in Geneva in August next. The former is invited by the Russian Cabinet, its object, being to come to an agreement on questions of international law in war time, especially with reference to the treatment of prisoners of war. Each country is invited to send one military and one diplomatic representative. It is this gathering to which, we are informed, some of the great powers are objecting. The International Code Conference which is to meet at Geneva is unofficial, and has a much broader scope, and is regarded with favor, so far as is known, by all governments. It is in no way dependant upon the fortunes of this diplomatic congress, while it will utilize its results.

THE POSTAGE LAW. The postage law is left by the conference report provides as follows: Daily newspaper's, two cents per pound, prepaid after January 1, 1875; weekly newspapers and periodicals three cents per pound, prepaid after same date. All newspapers are free within the county of publication.

The Congressional Record, when sent from the publication office, is subject to the law governing daily newspapers; transient copies of the Record one cent each. Congressmen's speeches have no special privilege.

There was great opposition manifested to the newspaper clause in the House, but time was so precious that rather than order a third conference the rate was agreed upon. There was also this consideration, that this provision of the law does not take effect till January, and Congress can act in regard to the matter during December.

THE CONSULAR AND DIPLOMATIC BILL was about the same in both years, except that the bill this year contained an item of $2,100,000 to pay claims of the British mixed commission; Pension bill this year about $500,000 less than last year, but has thought that there would be a deficiency to that amount; Sundry Civil Appropriation bill last year was $32,138,000; this year it was $20,683,000, and this year's bill contained an universal item of $400,000 for the sufferers from the overflow; River and Harbor bill last year was $4,212,000; this year, $5,248,000. The aggregate of these bills showed a diminution below last year's appropriations of $27,765,787.

The statement of course did not include the private bills, but his own impression was that, while more private bills than usual were passed at this session, the amounts appropriated in them were less than usual.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN RUGGLES. Hon. John Ruggles, formerly United States Senator from this State, died at his home in Thomaston, Saturday, aged 84 years and eight months. Mr. Ruggles was born in Westboro', Mass., October, 1789. He graduated at Brown University in 1813; studied law before graduation with Estes Howe, Esq., of Westboro', and after graduation with Hon. Levi Lincoln at Worcester. After finishing his studies he came to the State and commenced practice at Milburn, now Skowhegan, in 1817. In 1818 he removed to Thomaston and pursued the practice of law. In 1822 he was elected representative to the Legislature from Thomaston, and was re-elected for seven successive years thereafter. From 1825 to 1830 he was Speaker of the House and again in 1831. He resigned the Speakership in 1831 to accept the position of Judge of the District Court of Maine, made vacant by the election of Judge S. S. Smith as Governor. In 1832 he was elected United States Senator for six years to succeed Hon. Peleg Sprague. At the close of his term, in 1841, Judge Ruggles retired from political life and engaged actively in the duties of his profession. During his whole life he was a member of the Democratic party.

The Boston Journal says:—"The Democracy of Maine yesterday took their annual recreation by nominating a candidate for Governor and giving their views on the political salvation of the country. The principal speaker on the occasion excited unbounded applause by telling what he should do, 'come weal or woe,' although,' he said, 'the Democracy of Maine are now in a hopeless minority.' Such disinterested enthusiasm is affecting in these times. The nomination and the resolutions of the Convention were of the standard character, and nothing of special significance seems to have transpired."

A Portland special says "the movement in the Democratic Convention against the renomination of Mr. Titcomb, signified by the motion of Gen. Clark, was one in favor of Gen. C. W. Roberts of Bangor, and there was a considerable minority earnest in his support, including Androscoggin county, Lewiston especially. It is rumored on excellent authority that W. H. Clifford, Esq., will declare the Democratic nomination for Representative to Congress from the 1st District, and that C. P. Kimball, Esq., will be the leading candidate.

The London Times' Paris correspondent telegraphs that the condition of M. De Gouard is hopeless.

The Cincinnati Cotton Exchange has decided to join the National Cotton Exchange, and will send two delegates annually to the Convention.

A despatch to the London Times says that the Carlist General Jamaga is dead.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The Hon. D. W. Voorhees is looming up as a candidate for Congress in his old Indiana district.

Hon. Lyman K. Bass of New York has declined the appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Hon. Charles R. De Long has published a card in Nevada announcing that he is a candidate for the United States Senate.

The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Seventh District of Kentucky, which nominated Capt. J. S. Blackburn for Congress, adopted a resolution in favor of having the five-twenty bonds paid in the currency of the country, and the currency restored to the standard. It was at the time the bulk of the bonds were issued.

Dr. Redfield, in a letter from Tennessee to the Cincinnati Commercial, says that of the several candidates for the United States Senate from that State, ex-President Johnson is the central figure; that he "covers shrewd his competitors in every respect, and is at this moment stronger than any one of them. But they will unite, fuse and cuddle issues against him as they did three years ago, and with probably the same result."

Dr. SCHENCK'S

Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

These medicines have undoubtedly performed more cures of Consumption than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution.

Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a most dangerous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients, it must do great injury to the constitution in its effects upon the nerves of the system. Blood, of course, must ever be impoverished by it.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted not to contain a particle of opium. It is composed of several but harmless herbs, which act at the same time upon the liver, the stomach and the blood. In fact sanatives, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. These are the only means by which a cure of Consumption can be effected, and Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, the Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in the way. Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is taken on an empty stomach, and before it has had time to settle, it mingles with the food, and stimulates the secretion of the gastric juice, which is the only solvent of the food. The next step is the mixing of the food with the bile. This is accomplished in the liver, and the Sea Weed Tonic is a remedy which acts powerfully upon this organ. It determines a healthy flow of bile, which is the natural cathartic to the bowels. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, and cause a free discharge of bile from the system. When these three medicines are taken at the same time, according to the directions given in the pamphlet around each package, they will cure any case of Consumption which is not beyond the reach of medicine. Dr. Schenck's medicines are now in use throughout the civilized world, and have performed more cures of Consumption than any other three medicines ever discovered. Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are prepared and sold by DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia. Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1.50 per bottle or $7.50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box.

These medicines have unfortunately performed more cures of Consumptives than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution.

Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a most dangerous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients, it must do great injury to the constitution in its effects upon the nerves of the system. Blood, of course, must ever be impoverished by it.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted not to contain a particle of opium. It is composed of several but harmless herbs, which act at the same time upon the liver, the stomach and the blood. In fact sanatives, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. These are the only means by which a cure of Consumption can be effected, and Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, the Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in the way. Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is taken on an empty stomach, and before it has had time to settle, it mingles with the food, and stimulates the secretion of the gastric juice, which is the only solvent of the food. The next step is the mixing of the food with the bile. This is accomplished in the liver, and the Sea Weed Tonic is a remedy which acts powerfully upon this organ. It determines a healthy flow of bile, which is the natural cathartic to the bowels. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, and cause a free discharge of bile from the system. When these three medicines are taken at the same time, according to the directions given in the pamphlet around each package, they will cure any case of Consumption which is not beyond the reach of medicine. Dr. Schenck's medicines are now in use throughout the civilized world, and have performed more cures of Consumption than any other three medicines ever discovered. Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are prepared and sold by DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia. Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1.50 per bottle or $7.50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
Albany, March 24th, 1865.

To Doctors Carpenter, Brewster, Buckley, Brewer, Stacy, Bordwell and Holden.

Gentlemen —Nothing would please me more than to accept your invitation, but I am just now so positively engaged that I cannot at present spend more time in Albany. If you will kindly call on me during a week or two hence, I shall and will very gladly reciprocate your politeness and do my best to entertain you upon the very interesting and exceedingly important subjects which you mention.

Very respectfully and truly yours,

T. S. LAMBERT, M. D

Albany, March 24th, 1865.

In accordance with the foregoing correspondence, and also upon the invitation of the Insurance Committee of the Assembly of the Legislature of New York State, the Lecture, therein referred to, will be given on Wednesday evening, April 1st, in in the Assembly Chamber.

(From the Albany Argus.

DR LAMBERT UPON "BIOMETRY"

The crowded state of our columns in yesterday's issue compelled us to defer notice of Dr. Lambert's address before the committee of the Legislature, on Wednesday evening. The house was crowded by an attentive audience, including members of the medical fraternity, the bar and the clergy, and other professional men The scope of the lecture was to present, in some of its leading principles and features, the subject of "Biometry," or the laws of hereditary descent, and the signs and indications of longevity, as a science, positive, practicable, and of very great value in its application in all the varied relations of life. He gave practical illustrations referring to strangers in the audience of the signs and indications of longevity—and stated very clearly and succinctly the laws and principles upon which the science rests. The practical facts noticed by all, of hereditary tendencies, were shown to have relation to the inherent capabilities of living These conditions can all be measured, and a judgment upon them by one who has become even ordinarily expert may be relied upon—especially in determining the proper premiums to be charged in insuring lives. Referring to the "experience" tables in use by the Insurance Companies, their disagreement with each other and their inconsistencies as assumed data were pointed out. It was urged that the only safe and just basis was found in following the teachings of Biometry, and rating each risk upon its own characteristics. The safety, as well as the equity, of this was shown in the fact, as an illustration, that in the company With which he is connected (the American Popular), which originated the plan, the death losses have been for the last year only between three and four per thousand persons, while some companies have lost as high as twenty-four, and many over ten per thousand—the varying rates of loss being in themselves proof of the unreliability of the tables, and of the general average system of insuring all lives of the same age at the same date. Life insurance, he said, is simply protection of the family in case of the death of its head, and its simple and common sense method is found in the payment, year by year, of the natural premium representing the mortality belonging properly to that year,—the "Term Life Increasing Premium,"—at low cost, without surplus, without "dividends," without speculation, without deception.

Dr. Lambert was appropriately introduced by Dr. Carpenter, of the Assembly, and was listened to throughout his long address with marked attention.

No other company in the world applies these principles, or gives the advantage of so lower rate of premiums to those possessed of the natural superiorance of long life.

The only questions with them are: sound health and the general average mortality of a given age.

The AMERICAN POPULAR, by its gradation of risks, insures each according to the individual characteristics of the risk,

It fixes the premium rate accordingly without any special reference to the age.

Its premiums are based therefore upon the actual risk of the individual, charging him only the cost of carrying his risk.

This is JUST, EQUITABLE and SAFE.

Right yearly experience has proved these facts.

THE INJURY TO MR. IVES—DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT ON DERBY DAY.

NEW YORK, June 24. A London letter says that the accident to Mr. Ives of Salem, Mass., resulted from that disgraceful system of practical joking which was at one time universally indulged in by the hoons returning Derby crowd, and which, it appears, is not yet entirely abandoned. Mr. Ives was returning from the races when he was hit by an empty bottle thrown by occupants of another vehicle. The missile struck Ives on the head and so injured him that he is likely to lose the sight of his left eye. He is nearly seventy years old and went to Europe with his family on a pleasure trip.

A proposition was made to burn the effigy of Sargent in the streets, but better counsel prevailed The bill, however much it disappoints everybody, will open the Federal courts and give a new impetus to business. THE BILL TO BETTER REGULATE THE CHURCH—THE RITUALISTS FURIOUS.

LONDON, June 24. The Archbishop of Canterbury's bill for the better regulation of the national church, now being discussed by the House of Lords, is likely to lead to serious results. The bill has been prepared, it is said, under a direct inspiration of the Queen, and is intended to check ritualistic practices. The Ritualists are furious, and declare that if it is carried the immediate consequence will be a secession of a large number of both clergymen and laymen from the Established church and the organization of a church of their own with one or two of the ex-Colonial bishops at their head.

THE ASSAULT ON GAMBETTA—HOW THE TROUBLES AROSE.

NEW YORK, June 24. A Paris letter says: The troubles which resulted in the assault on Gambetta commenced in the Assembly. A Republican deputy asked certain questions of the ministers as to their knowledge of a circular of a so called Central Committee. The ministers had replied that they knew nothing about it. Mr. Rouher, speaking then for the Bonapartists, declared his belief that no such Central Committee existed, and intimated it had been put in circulation by designing parties. Gambetta then expressed himself satisfied with the answers of the other ministers, but desired an equally clear reply from the Minister of Finance.

AVERY'S WALK. Our readers have already been informed of the fact that Geo. F. Avery of this city, the pedestrian, accomplished the feat of walking 100 miles in 21 hours and 40 minutes, on the Manchester, N. H., Riding Park, last Saturday. We find the following details of the walk in an exchange:—

Avery began his attempt at walking 100 miles in 22 hours at 12 o'clock Friday night. The track was muddy and in rainy weather. At intervals during the morning, when it ceased and remained cloudy the rest of the day and evening. The first rest was taken at 5 o'clock, at the end of his twenty-sixth mile. At 7.57 o'clock, he had succeeded in walking fifty miles, when he rested half hour. He again took a brief rest of six minutes at 12.58 o'clock, being the sixty-fifth mile. Beef tea and oat meal were partaken of, and he was bathed with arnica when he rested, and beef tea was drank several times while he was traveling, to quench his thirst and give strength. His fourth and last rest was taken on the eighteenth mile at 4:39 o'clock, after which he started off in good trim and feeling, to finish the last twenty miles, which he accomplished in four hours and twenty minutes, making the total distance of 100 miles travelled, in twenty-one hours and forty minutes. The quickest time was made on the thirty ninth mile, in nine minutes and three seconds. He is in very good condition after such a long walk, and taking into consideration the condition of the track and the weather, it is believed to be the fastest ever made on the track in this country.

MUSICAL MATINEE. The pupils of Mrs. F. S. Davenport, the well known pianist, gave an exhibition of their proficiency in City Hall yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of their relatives and friends who were present by invitation. The performance was really enjoyable, and comprised piano solos by Bessie Clark, Georgie Boyd, Carrie Leavitt, Mary Rawson, Jennie Dillingham, Lulu Thompson, Gertie Meinecke, Nellie Strickland, Tinnie Farrar, Ella Fay and Fannie Evans, of the younger class, and Misses Etta Vail and Mary Bartlett. Piano duets were played by Miss Hattie Stisdell and Mrs. Davenport, Miss Hattie Baldwin and Miss Merril; Miss Merrill and Mrs. Davenport played an organ and piano duet, and Lulu Thompson, Nellie Strickland and Mrs. Davenport played a piano trio. Songs were sung by Tinnie Farrar, Georgie Boyd and Lulu Thompson, and the character song "Red Riding Hood" was sung by Carrie Leavitt, Tinnie Farrar, Jennie Dillingham, Georgie Boyd, Bessie Clark, Mary Rawson and Frances Lord. The performance closed with Haydn's charming Kinder-Sinfonie, (children's symphony,) the prologue to which was read by Bessie Clark. Georgie Boyd, Carrie Leavitt, Tinnie Farrar, Jennie Dillingham, Frances Lord, Gertie Meinecke and Mary Rawson made their debut as "instrumentalists" in the Symphony, and Miss Etta Vail and Miss Merrill presided at the piano.

The young pupils displayed fine abilities, and their performance was exceedingly creditable to them as well as to their pains-taking and skillful teacher.

BANGOR TROTTING PARK

JUNE MEETING—THIRD DAY

The fine weather and the promise of some good trotting drew a large crowd to the Bangor Trotting Park, yesterday afternoon, and the grand stand presented quite a lively appearance at half past two o'clock, when the horses were called up. The track was dry and somewhat dusty, but it was smooth as a floor, and though rather hard for horses inclined to be tender-footed, was altogether in good condition. The wind blew a gale, which, as it struck horses coming down the home-stretch full in the face, prevented the making of very fast time; but, from the record below, it will be seen that the time was unusually good, and the races were well contested and interesting.

THE FIRST RACE

was for horses that never beat 2.50, for a purse of $125, and nine horses were entered, but J. M. Curtis' b. g. Fred Logan, S. Wiseman's g. g. Grey Jacket, H. C. Tirrell's g. g. Blondin, and S. F. Leighton's s. g. Point Breeze were withdrawn, leaving five horses to start, with positions assigned as follows: F. S. Palmer's br. g. Corinth Boy, J. H. Majo's buckskin m. Fanny Mayo, G. O. Goodell's b. g. Charlie Morrill, C. G. Andrews' ch. g. Specie, and C. G. Simmons' blk. s. Fred McOliver.

After scoring twice, the horses got the word, and trotted very evenly to the first turn, when Corinth Boy got a slight lead. Specie and Fanny Mayo both broke, and the latter made bad work for it and fell behind. Charlie Morrill and McOliver had a brush, in which the latter came out ahead, passed the others, and went for Corinth Boy, whom he came up with, sent off his feet, and passed just after reaching the half-mile pole. The Boy got nervous, though he made good headway when he could keep his feet, and could not regain his lost lead, and McOliver led home, passing under the wire in 2.44, Corinth Boy was second; Morrill, who appeared to be just waking up to "biz," third; Specie, fourth, and Fanny Mayo, by some excellent running, got inside the distance flag.

An open score-off was obtained for the second heat at the fourth attempt. At the turn McOliver, who had got his nose well to the front, went into the air, and Corinth Boy got a slight advantage. These two horses fought for the lead until just before reaching the half-mile pole, when Morrill came up with a tremendous burst of speed, passed them both, and trotted home as evenly as a piece of clock-work, gaining so much on the last quarter that his driver pulled him on the home-stretch, and still coming in in 2.47. McOliver was second, and Corinth Boy got in third, but the latter was not timed for running and the third place given to Specie. Fanny Mayo behaved badly, and her driver withdrew her at the end of the heat

Much time was lost in scoring for the third heat, and it was not till the seventy trial that the horses were sent off, Morrill taking the lead. McOliver broke badly at the start, but soon settled to work, and took the second place, Specie closely following, and Corinth Boy, pitching and jumping, came last. Morrill broke before finishing the first half mile, and McOliver shot by him like an arrow, but Morrill did not lose much, and the remainder of the heat was a struggle for the lead between these two horses. First one and then the other would be forced off his feet, and his contestant would get along side, and the two kept up down the home-stretch, the people shouting and cheering as they came. An unlucky break by McOliver at last gave Morrill the advantage, and he came in ahead by half a length, in 2.40. McOliver's driver claimed a foul by Morrill at the last turn, but it was not allowed. Specie came in third, and Corinth Boy fourth.

For the fourth heat there were but two false starts. Morrill got the lead, but broke at the quarter, and McOliver, passing him, took the pole, and got at least five lengths ahead at the half-mile. Morrill began to lay himself out, however, and came up so strong that, at the third quarter, he drove McOliver off his feet, and got the lead, which he kept. McOliver pressed him so hard that he won only by a neck, in 2.41, but he did it, and the crowd cheered themselves hoarse over his victory. Morrill was awarded the first money, McOliver the second, and Specie the third. Following is a

GENERAL CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE

FORTY EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING

NEWCASTLE, June 25

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The forty-eighth session of the General Conference of the Congregational churches in Maine opened this morning. The officers are as follows —Moderator, Rev. S. F. Fay of Bangor, Corresponding Secretary, Rev. L. H. Bugbee of Brunswick, Recording Secretary, E F Duren of Bangor, (his 20th year of service in that office); Treasurer, J. S Wheelwright of Bangor, Auditor, W. S Dennett of Bangor.

A prayer meeting was held at 9 A M and the regular session opened at 9 A M with reading the Scriptures and prayer by the Moderator, after which the hymn "I will exalt Thee, O my God,"

The members of conference, delegates, committees, etc., were duly enrolled.

The reports of delegates attending other religious bodies were heard.]

A vote was adopted limiting speakers as to time, so that all might have opportunity to be heard.

The Constitution and Rules of Conference were read.

A half hour was spent in conference and devotional exercise, with singing

At 11 o clock the conference sermon was preached by Rev. E. Y. Hincks of Portland, text, "Sanctify Them, through Thy truth," showing the vital connection between the reception of the truth and the living of the life; the truth of God's word—its doctrines, its theology—must be studied, received, preached, loved, obeyed.

The devotional exercises were by the preacher and Dr Fiske.

2 P. M. Prayer and conference meeting, conducted by Rev. A Redlon of Kenduskeag.

3 30 P M The exercises usual for the opening of each session were conducted by the Moderator and Rev A Cole of York Conference.

The report of the Corresponding Secretary Rev. E. H. Byington of Brunswick, was read, showing the history and condition of the churches during the past year. Number of churches 241, members, 19,630; 15 ministers installed added by profession during the year, 624—by letter, 240—total, 867, removed by death, 332, dismissed to other churches, 312, excluded, 16—total, 710, in Sabbath schools, 20, 20, benevolent contributions, $28,841.

The acceptance of the report was moved by Dr. Blake of Bath and seconded by Rev W. H. Fenn of Portland, who added appropriate and stirring remarks. Revs. Cole of Cornish, Adams of Winslow and Garland of Bethel followed with remarks.

The Recording Secretary referred to the death of ministers formerly connected with the conference, which had occurred during the year:—S. H. Merrill, R. Woodhull and Dr. Balkam, who were residing in the State at the time of their decease, also to the following, former pastors or acting pastors, who had removed from the State.—J. W. Pierce, C. S. Adams, S. H. Lehman, L. Jones, T. L. Ellis, P. Field, N. W. Sheldon, C. F. Page, J. Smith, J. F. Griswold, B. F. Manwell, A. G. Duncan, B. Green, F. Tenney and J. P. Parsons. The average age of these was 60 years; of 16 of them, 76 years.

A hymn in memory of the above was sung and Rev J J Abbott led in prayer.

At 1 45 Our Sabbath Schools and their needs was presented in a clear and earnest manner by Rev. Geo. N. Marden of Farmington. He argued for an enlarged service of the Sabbath School; to include a Bible service, in which all the church and parish shall unite, in which the pastor shall have a part, adding a brief discourse on the subject of lessons—thus combining the Sabbath School and second service in the ordinary time devoted to an afternoon service.

A discussion followed, participated in by the ministers and laymen, all favoring a plan by which more attention would be given to the study of the Bible

A thunder shower in the evening—hardly for the cooling of the heated air—was unlimbly for a prompt gathering of the conference.

The thirty third anniversary of the Congregational Charitable Society was held, Prof. Harbour in the chair. The Treasurer reported that $678 had been received, and aid extended to the families of eleven deceased ministers. After brief remarks by members of the society a collection was taken up and the funds.

The subject of singing as a part of public worship was set forth clearly by Rev Wm Hart of Bath, followed by others, who indulged in an animated and profitable discussion of the subject. A praise meeting, led by Rev. Wm. P. Obear, pastor of the church, was held in connection, and closed with a benediction by Rev. J. L. Adams of the Waldo Conference. D.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER. An appalling disaster occurred at Syracuse, N. Y., on Tuesday night. A strawberry festival was being held at the parlors of the Central Baptist church, when, without any premonition, the floor gave way about half past nine o'clock, precipitating the room-full into the story below. The parlor was on the second floor, and the rooms underneath were also full. The fire alarm was immediately given and the firemen hurried to the scene Soon 10,000 people were there and tremendous excitement prevailed throughout the city. Fourteen persons were killed outright, and over one hundred were injured, many seriously and some fatally. The work of rescue was difficult and slow, as it had to be done in the dark and it was feared every moment that the walls would fall The entire police and fire departments were employed in removing the dead and wounded, and the city was filled with lamentations. The disaster was caused by the breaking of a joint that supported the floor. The joist ran from both sides of the room to a cross stringer, the middle of which was supported by iron rods from the roof. The stringer gave way, pulling the ceiling and roof down upon the people and precipitating them into the room below.

DANDELIONS.

BY REBECCA S. PIERCE

Ghosts of all the dandelions,
Swaying in the breeze,
Survey the most pitiful
Of all sowers, are these
All the pretty, golden locks
Changed to snowy white,—
And of bloom and beauty shorn
Shorn in a single night.

It was such a pretty sight
Just the other day,—
All their faces round and bright,
Made the fields so gay
Fresh and fair as flowers could be,—
Sparkling in the sun,
With them all, it seemed to me,
Life has just begun.

I could scarcely deem it true,
If I did not know
They are just the ones I saw
But a day ago!
All the same, and yet so changed
It was hard to trace
Aught in feature or in form
Of their early grace

Ah my little dandelions,
Looking so forlorn,
You are but a sorry sight—
All your beauty gone!
White locks streaming in the wind,
All the long day through,—
There is not a flower I find,
Pitiful as you!

Orring'on, June 10th, 1874.

QUALITY HILL

(Concluded.)

"Almost at any time, I shall not be surprised if they come to-day," answered Mrs. Seacrest, not able to conceal some nervous dread

Not a dread that the married pair might arrive before Mrs. Woodcock should go away with her long eyes, deep sets and broad tongue. Oh, no! Mrs. Woodcock would have scorned herself with contemptuous scorning if such an unworthy jealousy had crossed her self-assured mind

So she sat and sat, and sat, while Mrs Seacrest sewed and sewed and sewed and sewed

Miriam, evidently unable to bear the slow torture soon found an errand to her chamber and found no reason for returning

"I won't put it on, mamma—little sudden to you!" asked Mrs. Woodcock, as soon as she had collected her ideas

"Somewhat. But it is so much better for a young man to settle up a home one young lady rather than fall into the habit of flirting replied Mrs Seacrest, with cheerful satisfaction "And I have always been in favor of late marriages When young people and their habits are crystallized it is much harder adapting themselves

Mrs Seacrest's sentence was brought to an untimely end by the stopping of a carriage at the gate—the doctor's carriage, too, with the doctor himself to drive

So it seems she knew all the time they were coming this very day, though she made it so vague And there I was, as my good fortune would have it, right in the midst of the whole coming, and Mrs Woodcock afterwards, in relating the story to Mademoiselle Widger

Mademoiselle Widger was the milliner who lived only three doors from Woodcock's, and read, "much deeper, to appear like a French woman. She was equally fond of a cup of tea and a dish of gossip and made all Mrs Woodcock's bonnets for nothing.

"So there feast and saw it all," pursued Mrs Woodcock "And what do you think, Mademoiselle, but Earnest, cage in arm, already on his arm older than his mother" "My wife, said he, and you might have knocked me over with one of your feather Poppies— There was never such a surprise on Throck morton Square

"Mon dieu cried Mademoiselle, with a shrill scream. "Did you learn how it happened?

"No more than the dead, replied Mrs Woodcock, solemnly. "Mrs. Seacrest tried to pass it off with her smooth-it away manner, but she could n deceive me. I could see she had her work cut out to keep her feelings in But there she poured the tea and passed the cake to that old thing as amusing as a union She is such a hand to cover up, and make as everything is just right that happens in her

"So you staid to lunch?" queried Mademoiselle, helping herself to a third cup of that beverage from Mrs Woodcock's round black pot as the spoke.

"Yes, they asked me and I didn't want to be deemed I thought it would be a good chance to see the bride, low she looked, and how she appeared."

"Well how was it?" asked the milliner between her sips of tea.

"She appeared well enough as far as that went, if she hadn't seemed old enough to be his grandmother You know Earnest is master young looking for his years, and I don t suppose he is a day over twenty."

"But didn't you have any surmise how it happened to take place?" pursued Mademoiselle

"Well, I suppose she must have been worth property returned Mrs Woodcock, who like a wise general never acknowledged a defeat. "But for all that, I don't commend it in him, and I told as he'd tell him so at his dinner table

While thus the hidden affairs of the doctor s family were being discussed and stirred up in the Hollow, as a hen stirs among dead leaves, on the hill they were being covered over like the last leaves that fall, as never the Seacrest fashion to parade the family skeletons like the family jewels. So they ate and drank and laughed, and tried to look as the elderly bride without shuddering.

But the age was on the worst of it. She was homely And her homeliness was not the worst, she was stiff and unattractive in person And it was hardly the consolation that perhaps it should have been to perceive the unlimited fondness that the boy bridegroom had for his aged companion. For it is usually a comfort, though a small one, to our friends chafe under degradation Accepting slavery with contentment makes the captive twice a slave.

However, the less the family felt like saying sweet things, the more they pressed the sugared cake, the ice cream and strawberries, upon their new member But all this time there was something in the background waiting to be brought forward, and it was the bride who had the courage first to touch it.

"Earnest,' she began, with the dominant air of an elderly aunt, "an explanation is due your father and mother—and sister," she added, glancing sharply at Miriam, who was fairly seamick with disgust, and sorrow and mortification.

"Yes, Lily, tell them," answered Earnest, looking at her as though she were sugar candy.

The low of calling that old, black, greasy thing, Lily!

"The truth is, then," said Lily, turning her withered face away from Earnest as though it cost her an effort, "by the will of the uncle from whom I had my money, unless I married before a certain date, I lost it all. And a kinsman who was heir-at-law, was very anxious to inherit it"

"The old cur wanted Lily himself," interposed Earnest, "and he thought if he got her money he would be sure to get her. At any rate, he was resolved to have that. That was why we had to be so secret"

Miriam fairly groaned, and even fairy-hearted Mrs. Seacrest dropped her napkin-ring on the floor, and came up from stooping for it with wet eyelashes. To think that Earnest had sold himself in this woman's gold! So Mrs. Woodcock down in bottom, was right after all!

But as though she suspected the nature of their thoughts, Lily went on

"I had some trouble in persuading Earnest," she said, looking at him fondly through her misery, "I think she painted her gray curls and scolded her well. I know you had" ejaculated Miriam, inaudibly "I had a foolish notion of waiting till after I had lost my property. But I had a right to it, and I wanted to keep it."

"We had a jolly time, though, dodging old Dryman He is about discovering now, Lily, that he isn't so smart as he thought he was," said Earnest, bursting into a joyous laugh and nobody felt the heart to join in.

Then he took from his pocket the marriage certificate, dated that very day. It seemed he had telegraphed to his father to come him and his wife at the station next morn than five minutes after she had became his wife.

"We had to turn pretty sharp corners to keep out of Dryman's way," continued Earnest, still chuckling. "But the best of Lily sadly looked in her room, while he met for a minute, thinking he would frighten her into a marriage with him, or at any rate keep her away from all other men till the day had gone by. Lily was posted at a sticking point then, he thought; and she came to me your thing, so out of breath and frightened!"

Earnest's voice grew tenderer and pitiful at the thought, and he took Lily's hand in his with a caressing motion.

"I loved her ever since I have been in college, and the honor it, but we had to keep it to ourselves on old Dryman's account. And I was dying to marry her, but I didn't like the idea of marrying for money, exactly,—How ever, there wasn't any help for it then, mother, you see. Dryman was her legal guardian until she married, or was of a certain age. So chum and I fixed her up in her bridal dress, and here we are"

Upon that the irrepressible bridegroom got up and kissed his bride, whom he had from the morning sighing over his shoulder

"We will be back, directly.

When they were gone a sorrowful sigh bubbled out of the mother's soul.

"Poor boy!" said she; "his heart is all right and I cannot blame him."

"I blame him for falling in love with his grandmother, in the first place, said Miriam, severely. "And her having the money makes it all the more horrible. It seems so sordid, even though we may know better"

But before they had done speaking, they heard Earnest's steps on the stairs, and his voice in such loving, happy tones, that it sent a fresh pain through the listeners. Then he appeared with his bright, curling head and his sonny eyes like his mother's. But with him came, instead of the wrinkled old bride, a fair faced, blushing girl, with a shower of golden hair, and all the beauty of youth and happiness on her sweet face. A lily truly, beautiful and pure.

"We had to fix her up that way, chum and I, for fear old Drymar would meet us," cried Earnest, with a burst of boyish delight at the astonished and relieved faces of the family, "and it has been such fun to watch Miriam thus evening. Father and mother keep it better"

"Mon dieu! Do you call that little creature old enough to be Earnest's grandmother," whispered Mademoiselle Widger to Mrs. Woodcock, leaning over her pew railing on the next sabbath, as the Seacrests came into church

"Mrs. Woodcock looked, took off her glasses, wiped them and looked again.

"Mercy on me! And I sat so near to her on that day as I am to this minister now—How a body's eyes will deceive them!" she cried.

STARS AND METEORS.

At certain seasons meteors dart across the firmament between the earth and the fixed stars. But they quickly vanish, while the fixed stars remain. In the medical firmament the great vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has long been a fixed star in the first magnitude. Little or none is the shape of malaqipus, bearing various names now and in attempt a glimmering competition with it, but they soon disappear from the field of vision, leaving the glory of the true remedy undisputed. The number of these will-o'-the-whips is legion, and we cannot regret while the last twenty-five years have not developed a remedy equal to it as a beyond competition, and those now in existence are in the last agonies of extinguishment. The fact is, we cannot regret it, that these and perplexing so many distressing diseases, and which no disillusioned invalid ever took without receiving a wonderful accession of strength and vitality, only to retire in raised popularity from the attempts of charlatans to ruin their fairness in the Hostetter groves
